

Clearer Thoughts

Environmental Policy

Clearer Thoughts is an IT and Personal Development Training company based in Bootle, Merseyside. Clearer Thoughts works with corporate clients in the development and delivery of tailored training packages. As well as offering training at our premises in Bootle, we also visit companies nationwide to offer training in client offices. The company recognises that its activities have an impact on the environment so it is committed to continually improving its performance.

We will:

- Observe relevant environmental legislation and industry codes of practice
- Seek to reduce the consumption of energy and other resources and to increase our use of recycling
- Set targets to drive our desire for continuous improvement
- Take into account the concerns of interested third parties such as regulators, shareholders, employees and the public
- Ensure that all employees are aware of this statement and have had any relevant training in their responsibilities
- Hold regular meetings to review environmental performance and targets
- Make this policy available to our clients and the public through our website and on demand
